Introduction

The Madras Institute of Development Studies was founded in January 1971 as a trust by Dr.Malcolm S.Adiseshiah and Mrs.Elizabeth Adiseshiah with the following objectives:

* To undertake studies and research pertaining to development problems with special reference to the agro-rural aspects of Tamil Nadu and the problems of the economically and socially backward sections of the population throughout the country.

* To conduct seminars and conferences on development problems and programmes of the State.

* To foster inter-university cooperation among the social scientists of the Universities of the four southern states.

* To promote inter-disciplinary research, and bring out publications relating to the above three functions.

Responding to changing concepts of development the objectives have been extended to cover developmental issues of a much wider variety. In 1976 the Government of India, through the Indian Council of Social Science Research, New Delhi sent a mission to study the possibility of developing the Institute into a national institute of social science research. On the basis of the recommendations of the mission, the Institute was reconstituted as a national institute in March 1977 under the joint sponsorship of the Indian Council of Social Science Research and the Government of Tamil Nadu, with a Governing Council comprising representatives of the ICSSR, State Government, Universities of the four southern states, trustees of the Institute and co-opted social scientists as given in Annexure I. The trust gifted to the reconstituted national institute its land and building, library, furniture, equipment, and a cash endowment.

As per the trust deed, the Institute also has an Academic Council, which meets twice a year. It consists of both external and internal members. While all the professors of the Institute serve on it as permanent members, other faculty members and the Ph.D.scholars serve on rotation. The Director of the Institute is its ex-officio Chairman. The composition of the current Academic Council is mentioned in Annexure II.

Dr.Malcolm S.Adiseshiah served as the Director of the Institute from its inception till June 1978. Dr.C.T.Kurien took up charge of the reconstituted Institute in July 1978 and served as its Director for ten years. He was succeeded by Dr.A.Vaidyanathan and Dr.S.Neelakantan. After the retirement of Dr.S.Neelakantan in December 1995, Dr.Nirmal Sengupta has been appointed Director.

In 1996, MIDS completes 25 years. Throughout the year the Silver Jubilee will be celebrated with a number of programmes, workshops and publications. The Silver Jubilee will also be a fitting occasion for MIDS to renew its commitment to the academic community by strengthening its inter-disciplinary research agenda and expanding its research facilities. During this year, MIDS hopes to strike out in new directions by building up a regional data bank and documentation centre, computerising the library and improving the quality of its infrastructure.

Personnel

During the Seventh Five Year Plan (1985-90) the ICSSR Review Committee had endorsed the proposal to raise the faculty strength to 25. The available fund was not enough to support a staff of that size. At present only about two-thirds of the sanctioned faculty positions have been filled. Several sanctioned posts in Administration and Library have also remained vacant for long. In spite of this situation, the supporting staff has competently managed affairs in a vibrant research atmosphere assisting addition to the core, the faculty members, three Emeritus Professors, 12 Research Scholars, on an average, 25 Project Personnel, 4-5 Visiting Scholars and many outsiders who regularly use different academic facilities available at the Institute.

Dr. S.Neelakantan had assumed charge as Director in July 1990. After drawing up a detailed agenda for its Silver Jubilee celebration, he retired on 31st December, 1995. Dr.U.Kalpagam, Fellow has submitted her resignation. Ms.J.Jeyalakshmi, Typist-cum-Clerk was terminated with effect from 15th December, 1995. After more than two decades of dedicated service Mr.R.Gopal, Watchman retired on June 30th, 1996.

Dr.Nasir Tyabji, Professor is Senior Fellow, Nehru Memorial Museum and Library, New Delhi doing research on "Technology Acquisition and Innovation in India" since June 1, 1994. Dr.S.Janakarajan, Fellow visited Queen Elizabeth House, Oxford University, as part of the project work "Adjustment and Development" during the period July 14th, 1995 to March 31st, 1996. Dr.D. Jayaraj, Fellow was a Visiting Fellow at the Queen Elizabeth House, Oxford, U.K. for a period of six months from October 1st, 1995 to March 31st, 1996 under the South Asia Visiting Scholars Programme. Dr.R. Hema, Fellow is currently visiting DePaul University, Chicago, Illinois from March 1, to December 31, 1996.

The list of Faculty Members is included in Annexure III. The composition of the administration and library staff is given in Annexure IV.

Research Activities

In the early years of the Institute the focus of research work was primarily agriculture and rural economy of Tamil Nadu. Over the years the scope of research has greatly diversified. The areas of interest of the faculty members as indicated by them are shown in Annexure III.

The following are the major academic works of the Institute during 1995-1996:

Many works of both research and public activity, of the Institute members are in response to current economic problems. Research studies addressing liberalisation, globalisation and economic reforms directly include: Dr.R.Hema's study of regulatory policies of Electricity supply in India. Dr.M.Thangaraj is about to complete a study of the impact of Structural reforms on the rural poor. Mention is to be made also of Dr.V.Chandrasekara Naidu's study of the implications of privatisation on growth and poverty and Dr.D.Jayaraj's work on redistributive taxation for poverty eradication. Dr.Nirmal Sengupta has worked on natural resource management, common property law and issues pertaining to traditional knowledge. Emeritus Professor C.T.Kurien has published a book on Economic Reforms and the People. S.Guhan, Emeritus Fellow has published a policy paper for ILO on 'Adjustment, Employment and Equity in India'. Ms. Millie Nihila Research Scholar's work on 'Employment Opportunities of Women in Export-Oriented Industries' and Project member Mr.Narahari Reddy's work (jointly) on 'Impact of Liberalisation on Chemical Industry' are also included in this category.

A.Vaidyanathan, Emeritus Professor has done a couple of works for the State Government and the SIDA towards rationalisation of expenditure in agriculture and rural development.

The industrial region growing rapidly around Coimbatore area is of considerable interest to researchers of MIDS. Dr.Paul P.Appasamy has conducted a project on urban environmental problems of that region. Dr.Padmini Swaminathan is currently studying the agglomeration economies of the export oriented knit-wear cluster of Tiruppur. Dr.K.Nagaraj is doing a study of silk-Weaving in Arni.

Urbanisation, migration, demographic and environmental experience occupy a large part of work. Dr.Padmini Swaminathan has given an insightful political analysis of the oft-cited positive demographic experience of Tamil Nadu. Dr. Paul Appasamy has worked extensively on urban infrastructure : on finance, local bodies, water supply and solid waste management. Dr.S.Janakarajan has recently studied several aspects of the ecological crisis resulting from irrigation. Prof.A.Vaidyanathan has published an important study of causes, consequences and remedies of groundwater depletion. Dr.R.Rukmani, Project member, has published a paper on factors behind urbanisation of Tamil Nadu.

The question of developmental justice and discrimination forms a large part of Institute's concerns. The types of work done include both conceptual and applied empirical research. During this period Mr.S.Subramanian developed a poverty index to account for between - group disparities. Dr.S.Janakarajan has recently completed (jointly) a multi-dimensional project on agrarian structure and change, from the perspective of both market forces and social welfare. Dr.D.Jayaraj did considerable work on structural transformation of the rural work force. Dr.P.Radhakrishnan has published a couple of important papers on backward classes and reservations. Dr.M.Thangaraj has written on demographic and economic problems of Dalits and about atrocities against them.

During this period several faculty members jointly conducted a study of social exclusion in basic needs, for IILS, Geneva. It has been published as a monograph. Dr.Manabi Majumdar continues to work on social and educational exclusion. Dr.P.Radhakrishnan is collating materials for a book on education related to women and disabled sections. Dr.R.Hema is pursuing her studies on differential health care services. Dr.M.S.S.Pandian has published a couple of papers during this period which contrasts the depiction of gender in contemporary and colonial India.

Gender studies is an important research agenda in the Institute. Dr.Janaki Nair's recently published book "Women and Law in Colonial India: A Social History" is the foremost contribution this year.

Another set of studies pertaining to emancipation process are distinctive in their commitments to particular methodological approaches. Dr.Pandian's extensive work on politics of representation in media belongs to this category. Dr.Ananta Giri has several works on strategies of cultural reproduction. He has recently taken up a study of the social movements called Swadhyaya. Dr.Nirmal Sengupta has been working on participation in sustainable development. Mr.Ajit Menon, Ph.D.Scholar has published an important article on reconstruction of the 'local' in current participatory forest management programmes.

Major works of a theoretical nature includes a book being edited by Mr. S. Subramanian on the measurement of inequality and poverty. Prof.A.Vaidyanathan has presented a paper on methodology for comparative research on poverty. Both Dr.S.Janakarajan and Dr.J.Jeyaranjan, Project members have published articles on village study methodology. Prof.C.T.Kurien has written on institutions in economic theory and policy. Prof.S.Neelakantan, ex-Director has brought out an excellent conceptual study of the change and continuity in urban and rural transformation. Dr.Ananta Giri has written several papers on problems of modernity and in the area of critical theory. Dr.Manabi Majumdar has published a comparative study of democracy and civil society in India and West Europe. Important publications in the area of historical studies include Dr.Janaki Nair's work on labour history of Karnataka and Dr.Padmini Swaminathan's work on the industrial history of Madras.

One may note that several research works are joint works of faculty members. Several study groups are now active within the Institute. Depending on the area and focus the faculty members decide the media in which to publish their findings. They range from MIDS publications, books and monographs, edited books, mimeographed publications and contributions to books, journals and newspapers, book reviews, seminar presentations and lectures. These are listed in Annexures V to XII.

In the Twelfth Conference of Directors of Research Institutes the ICSSR identified several research priorities. In spite of its small size, MIDS faculty have conducted research on most of the listed priority areas.

The following are the subjects of research of Ph.D.Scholars who could select their topics in the post structural adjustment period: health situation in tannery industry, technological capability in machine tools industry, environmental impact of export-oriented industry, joint forest management and bio-diversity resources, natural resource accounting, educational status of women, problems of low income women and urban poverty.

Related Activities

From time to time the services of faculty members and scholars have been sought by several public organisations. Some of them have served in important Committees set up by the Government and as resource persons for several training programmes. They have also been active in academic evaluation and participated in governance structures of academic institutions. They have served as referees, examiners and members of editorial committees of journals.

To mention a few: Mr.S.Guhan, Emeritus Fellow continues to be the Chairman of the Advisory Committee of the Government of India on the National Social Assistance Project. Dr.M.S.S.Pandian, Fellow is the Editor and Dr.Janaki Nair, Fellow, a member of the Editorial Board of a new bi-annual Journal, South Indian Studies, published from Kochi, Kerala. Dr.K.Nagaraj conducted a comprehensive course on urbanisation and migration for UNFPA trainees at Trivandrum. Dr. Paul Appasamy served as a water resource specialist on a SIDA mission to Rajasthan.

Some of the public activities of the faculty members are given in Annexure XIII.

RBI Chair

The Reserve Bank of India established a Chair in the Institute in 1985, in applied research in regional economics. This was for a five year period. In 1991, the RBI decided to extend support to the Unit on a continuing basis, subject to periodic review. The RBI Unit comprises a Professor, a Research Associate and a Steno-Typist.

During the year under review, Dr.Padmini Swaminathan was Professor, and Dr.Manabi Majumdar was Research Associate to the RBI Chair.

Since 1993, the RBI has been granting fellowships to Ph.D. scholars. Their maximum number is three at any point of time.

Projects

During the year under review, the Institute had undertaken projects sponsored by Central and State Planning Commissions, Central Ministries of Environment and Rural Development and Ministry of Human Resources Development Centre, Swedish International Development Agency, Ford Foundation, Linkoping University, International Institute of Labour Studies, Overseas Development Administration and the World Bank.

The details of projects undertaken are listed in Annexure XIV and publication by some of the Project members in Annexure XV.

Doctoral Programme

The Doctoral candidates of the Institute are registered with the Madras University. In the year under review, Ms.S.Senthamiz Selvi, RBI research scholar under the supervision of Dr.Paul Appasamy and Ms.M.Prashanti, ICSSR research scholar under the supervision of Dr.Manabi Majumdar, have joined. The list of doctoral candidates, their research supervisors and their topics of research is given in Annexure XVI.

Affiliates and Post-Doctoral Fellows

The Institute grants affiliation to students and faculty members of sister institutions in India and abroad. It also admits ICSSR Post-Doctoral Fellows. The list of affiliates and post-doctoral fellows during the year under review is given in Annexure XVII.

Adiseshiah Auditorium

In memory of the late founder Chairman, Dr.Malcolm S.Adiseshiah, the seminar room was refurnished and renamed as Adiseshiah Auditorium. Thiru.C.Subramaniam, Former Governor of Maharashtra inaugurated the New Auditorium on November 21, 1995. A Special Issue of the Bulletin on Malcolm S.Adiseshiah was released by the Chairman, Prof. S. Gopal, to commemorate the function. Dr.P.K.Ponnuswamy, Vice Chancellor, University of Madras, accepted the first copy. Dr.M.Anandakrishnan, then Vice-Chancellor of Anna University, unveiled the portraits of Dr. and Mrs.Adiseshiah. The ceremony was attended by eminent scholars and academics from the city.

MIDS Silver Jubilee Programme 1996

The Silver Jubilee year opened on March 4, 1996 with the Adiseshiah Memorial Lecture by Prof. K.N.Raj. The theme was 'Institutional Economics: Its Relevance and Significance for India'. It was attended by a galaxy of professional experts drawn from various academic and research institutions.

On this occasion a Silver Jubilee Document containing a complete account of the work of the Institute between 1971-1995 was prepared and released.

It was followed by the Silver Jubilee Seminar on 'Tamil Nadu: Economy, Polity, Society', April 2-4. In this three-day seminar, sixteen papers were presented and discussed. These included research on various aspects of the State conducted by well - known scholars from India and abroad. The authors and their papers are listed in Annexure XVIII.

As parts of the Silver Jubilee Programme, three more workshops will be conducted in course of the year. These are:

1) "Rethinking Indian Modernity : The Political Economy of Sexuality", August 1-3.

2) "Urbanisation and Migration", October 30-31.

3) "Social Criticism, Cultural Creativity and Contemporary Dialectics of Transformation". (late November)

The Vice President of India, Dr.K.R.Narayanan, is likely to preside over the Valedictory Function to be held in late November.

Both the sponsoring agencies, Indian Council of Social Science Research and Tamil Nadu Government have responded very favourably to the Silver Jubilee Programme designed by the Institute. Apart from a series of lectures, seminars, workshops and publications, we will also be able to build up, with their financial support a regional Data Bank, computerise the Library and acquire a Desk Top Publishing System.

Other Conferences and Workshops

a) Seminar on The New-Institutional Approach to Development: India's Potential

A seminar on 'The New-Institutional Approach to Development: India's Potential' was organised jointly by the Centre for Institutional Reform and the Informal Sector (IRIS), University of Maryland, USA and Madras Institute of Development Studies. It was held on the 12th & 13th of January, 1996 at Chola Sheraton, Madras. Papers were presented by prominent scholars from U.S.A. and India.

b) The Overseas Development Administration Workshop

The Queen Elizabeth House, University of Oxford in collaboration with MIDS organised a workshop funded by the Overseas Development Administration (ODA). The theme of the workshop was on "Adjustment and Development: Agrarian Change, Markets and Social Welfare in South India 1973-1993". It was held at the Institute during March 27-29, 1996 and attended by 55 Scholars from various disciplines from India and abroad.

Seminars and Visitors

Special seminars are arranged in the Institute for members of the Institute and outside scholars to present their research. The list of seminars by faculty and visitors are given in Annexure XIX. Efforts are being made to revive monthly seminar services of the Institute which were held between 1970-1994.

The list of visitors to the Institute is given in Annexure XX.

Inter-University and Inter-Institutional Co-operation

Special emphasis on this kind of work was given in the objectives of the Institute. In pursuance of those objectives, the Institute conducts several programmes every year.

a) Ph.D. Scholars and Guides Workshop

To foster academic co-operation between the Institute and the Universities of Tamil Nadu, the Workshop of Ph.D.Scholars and Guides is conducted every year. It is sponsored by the ICSSR and the Institute. For the past four years it is being held in different Universities of Tamil Nadu. The host Universities also bear a portion of the cost. In the year under review, a four day workshop was held at the School of Economics of Madurai Kamaraj University from 10th to 13th, January 1996. The major objective of the workshop was to provide opportunities for the Ph.D. scholars to present their research proposals outlining the theoretical, methodological and other issues involved in the study. Twenty one resource persons and guides in Economics and Commerce took part in the workshop. Sixty two scholars from various universities and colleges belonging to the disciplines of Economics and Commerce participated which reflected an all time high degree of participation since the programme was started in 1980.

b) Meeting of Heads of Social Science Departments in Southern Universities

In the month of December every year, the Institute conducts a two-day annual meeting of Social Scientists (Heads of Departmentsof the Southern Universities) as part of its programme to foster inter-university co-operation. This workshop is sponsored by the Southern Regional Centre of the ICSSR, Hyderabad. One topic based on a theme is selected for discussion and lead papers are requested to be prepared by two social scientists who have expertise in the topic. These papers are then circulated among the invitees for informed discussions. After the deliberations, the minutes of the meeting are prepared and circulated to all the participants. The Twentyfifth Annual Meeting of the Social Scientists of Southern Universities, jointly sponsored by MIDS and Southern Regional Centre of the ICSSR, Hyderabad was held at the Adiseshiah Auditorium on Friday, 8th and Saturday, 9th December, 1995.

The theme for discussion for this meeting was "Privatisation of Higher Education in India". It was attended by 11 participants from the Southern Universities.

c) Inter-Disciplinary Research Methodology Workshop

The 25th Inter-Disciplinary Research Methodology Workshop, sponsored by MIDS-ICSSR and in collaboration with Mahatma Gandhi University, was held at the TMAM Orientation Centre, Kottayam from 2nd to 5th August, 1995. Eleven papers were presented and around 30 participants attended the workshop. The theme of workshop was on "Social Exclusion". The papers are listed in Annexure XXI.

d) Census of Social-Science Research in South India

The Twenty-fifth Census of Social Science Research in South India was conducted during May-June this year. There is a marginal increase in the listing of disciplines this time - 11 as against 9 last year. Of the total of 151 entries, Economics leads with 58. Political Science and Public Administration has 21 entries followed by Geography which has 15 entries. Rural Development and Econometrics has recorded 12 and 10 entries respectively. All the remaining subjects have less than 10 entries. An interesting aspect of the census is that Ph.D. accounts for 82 entries out of the total 151, followed by M.Phil with 34 entries and the remaining are ongoing projects.

Although this is the only available documentation source of this kind, response is unfortunately very poor.

The Census of Social Science Research since 1971 is available at the Institute in bound volumes. All those who had been responding to the Census over the years were being mailed copies separately. It is also distributed to all major universities and research institutions in South India.

Journals

MIDS Bulletin

About two hundred and fifty volumes of "The Bulletin - Madras Development Seminar Series", the well-known journal of MIDS edited by the late Dr.Malcolm S.Adiseshiah until December 1994, came out without a delay or a break ever. Envisaging that his capabilities and energy would not be matched easily Prof. Adiseshiah had decided that the Bulletin would cease publication in mid-1995 and invited the other members of the Institute to start a new journal within their means. After the demise of Dr. Adiseshiah a last issue of the Bulletin, Vol.XXV.No.1, was brought out by Dr.S.Neelakantan, in November 1995, to pay homage to his memory. The special volume contains a biographic sketch followed by his personality in the estimation of his fellows, reminiscences and tributes, messages of condolence and a few selected articles of the late Chairman on Education, Environment & Economics.

MIDS Communique

The Bulletin contained a section of "MIDS News". After its publication ceased, MIDS Communique was started in March 1995. It is a quarterly "in-house" Newsletter, exclusively for dissemination of information on MIDS activities which were reported in the MIDS News section of the monthly Bulletin. Among other things it is expected to cover important events, seminars, conferences and workshops, visitors, participation of MIDS faculty at seminars, lectures, papers presented and Ph.D. Programme.

New Journal

After it was decided to discontinue the Bulletin, the Institute recognised the need and welcomed the faculty proposals for starting a new journal called Review of Development and Change. The first issue of the journal as a half yearly appeared during January-June 1996. The editor is Prof.C.T.Kurien ably assisted by Associate Editors and an Editorial Advisory Board.

The Journal is committed to examining the diverse aspects of the change taking place in our society. It aims to encourage scholarship that perceives problems of development and social change in depth, documents them with care, interprets them with rigour and communicates the findings in a way that is accessible to readers from different backgrounds.

Library

During the period July 1995 to June 1996, 1375 volumes were added to the library which includes books acquired through payment and books acquired as gratis. The library continues to receive 184 journals by subscriptions, exchange and gratis.

The library is being extensively used by scholars within and outside Madras.

As part of the Silver Jubilee Programme, the Institute's Library is to be computerised. Also, a Data Bank, linked to the Library System will be established.

Finance

The audit report for the year under review as per Annexure XXII presents the financial position of the Institute. It would be seen that the net expenditure was Rs. 53,05,336/- inclusive of Rs. 4,65,850/- which was a special grant received from the Government of Tamil Nadu for library. Out of the balance expenditure of Rs. 48,39,486.38, the ICSSR had sanctioned a sum of Rs. 22,75,000/- only which would also be matched by the Government of Tamil Nadu. The Institute's own income amounts to Rs. 66,236.75. Therefore the uncovered deficit amounts to Rs.2,23,249.63.

Projects Undertaken

Completed:

a) Adjustment and Development: Agrarian Change, Markets and Social Welfare in South India, 1973-93, Queen Elizabeth House, Oxford University and O.D.A., London.

Project Leaders: S.Janakarajan and Barbara Harriss - White

This project addressed the short term structural adjustment policy agenda which the Government of India embarked on in 1991 from the perspective of long term village studies. It also updated for a span of two decades the research originally funded by ODA in 1972-74 on the green revolution and agrarian transformation. The 11 villages in northern Tamil Nadu were censused and a stratified sample survey of 128 households in three villages were intensively studied over a period of 18 months. Data on production, income and expenditure, assets and liabilities, occupation and employment, social welfare and access to essential commodities were elicited by a field survey in four rounds. In addition rural and urban case study field research on contractual arrangements in all agrarian markets and detailed field study on infrastructure and local governance were carried out. The project lasted from September 1993 to March 1996.

Towards the end of the project we organised a dissemination workshop with a view to present some of our preliminary results. The workshop was held in the MIDS Adiseshiah Auditorium during 27th-29th March, 1996.

b) Social Exclusion: Basic Needs, IILS, Geneva & UNDP, New York

Paul Appasamy, S. Guhan, R. Hema, Manabi Majumdar and A. Vaidyanathan

The social exclusion approach focuses attention on the process and agency of social distancing whereby social enclosures are formed, including some but to the exclusion of others. The study was confined to the extent and nature of exclusion from a few basic welfare rights, namely, health, education, housing, sanitation and social security - which provide citizens positive freedom to participate in social and economic life and were recognised by the framers of the Indian Constitution as necessary to render meaningful their fundamental negative freedoms. Apparently, faced with more or less similar social, cultural and economic constraints, different political regimes in different states of India in fact follow and implement policies which lead to significantly different outcomes in welfare terms. The agenda of poverty reduction and integration, therefore, has to operate in tandem with an agenda on the construction of efficient and accountable public institutions, nurtured and tempered by a strong civil society. Final discussions were conducted at New York in May, 1996. The report has been published.

c) Adult Education Evaluation Project - TLC for Voluntary Agencies, Ministry of Human Resource Development, Govt. of India

A.M.Nalla Gounden

d) Review of Public Expenditure in Agriculture in Tamil Nadu, State Planning Commission, Madras.

A.Vaidyanathan

This study has been completed and the report, finalised after discussion with concerned officials of the Commission and the government, has been sent to the government.

e) Strategy Paper on Urban Water Supply, Ministry of Urban Affairs and Employment & Ministry of Environment and Forests, Government of India.

Paul P. Appasamy

f) Water Allocation and Management in Madras Metropolitan Area, Overseas Development Institute, U.K.

Paul P. Appasamy

g) Survey of Solid Waste Management in Zone VI of Madras City, Environmental Resources Management, U.K. and Madras Metropolitan Development Authority.

Paul P. Appasamy

Ongoing:

a) Costs and Productivity of Irrigation in Tamil Nadu, Planning Commission, Govt. of India

A.Vaidyanathan, S.Janakarajan & A.Rajagopal

The revision of the draft reports on characteristics of groundwater use is still in process. We expect to finalise both reports, as well as the paper on trends in costs and public surface irrigation works to be finalised for transmission to the sponsoring agency by August 1996.

b) Small Water Bodies, Ministry of Environment & Forests, Govt. of India

A.Vaidyanathan et.al

The final report of the survey of eco-systems of 6 selected tanks entrusted to Prof. C.B.S.R. Sharma of the Central University, Pondicherry has been sent to the Ministry and other specialists. Extra copies for wider circulation are awaited from the author.

Available data from the field survey of the present conditions and working of approximately 40 tanks each from the Periyar Vaigai and the Palar basins is complete. Analysis is underway and the draft report is expected to be ready by September 1996.

c) Financing of Irrigation Sector: An Integrated View, Ford Foundation, New Delhi

Nirmal Sengupta, Dr.M.Thangaraj, J.Jeyaranjan

Draft of the Decision Support System that was proposed has been built. The draft was circulated among many user agencies as well as among the interested personnel and the comments were received.

The present D.S.S. integrates various information systems that are being used by various agencies involved in irrigation financing. The existing systems could be retrieved for analysis and decisions only at a huge cost of time, resources and energy. The overall framework of the present D.S.S. enables one to regularly update the information, retrieve it at low cost and in little time. This would enable quick and rational decisions. In this way, it is an improvement over the information systems that are being used by the agencies.

Dissemination of this system among the users is our focus now. We propose to conduct a series of workshops towards the same where decision makers at various levels in the agencies would be the participants.

Ford Foundation had granted no-cost extension of the project for the dissemination work.

d) The Impact/of Agricultural Reforms on the Rural Poor, World Bank, Washington

M.Thangaraj

The objective of the study is to analyse the impact of agricultural reforms initiated since 1991 on the landless, marginal farmers and small farmers. The Bank has asked us to conduct the study in two districts viz., Thanjavur and Dharmapuri districts and within each district, a sample of 4 villages and one small town were selected for this study. The first draft of the report was submitted on 24th March and the final report to Bank is expected to be submitted by end of July 1996.

e) Elementary Education in Tamil Nadu and Rajasthan, UNDP

Manabi Majumdar

The basic objective of this project, carried out under the auspices of the UNDP, is twofold: 1) to find out who is schooled and why, and 2) to highlight inter-state variations in the spread of elementary education.

Two districts have been selected from the states of Tamil Nadu and Rajasthan—the two prototypes of educationally 'forward' and 'backward' states respectively—for a more disaggregated village-based analysis. Field surveys have been conducted in six villages of these two states at two different stages. We are in the process of analysing the data and finalising a draft report. The underlying motivation of this project is to identify at a micro level both 'demand-side' and 'supply-side' constraints on educational progress in order to speak meaningfully about macro trends.

f) The Tiruppur Knit-Wear Cluster: A Case-Study of a Dynamic Regional Industrial System, Small Industries Development Bank of India (SIDBI)

Padmini Swaminathan

The central objective of the study (which commenced in January 1996) is to try and capture how sustainable Tiruppur's knit-wear cluster is, given the present form of organisation of its production and labour process. The field research is specifically aimed at documenting the interconnections between firms at all levels, the accumulation of technological competence, the quality of "real services" available to the industry, etc. An interim report has to be submitted by the middle of August 1996.

g) Environment Action Programme: Urban Environment of Tamil Nadu II Phase, Ministry of Environment and Forests, Government of India.

Paul P.Appasamy

The ongoing project "Urban Environment of Tamil Nadu" was approved for the second phase study by the Ministry of Environment and Forests, Government of India and UNDP. The study involves the preparation of environmental profiles for nine cities in Tamil Nadu. A report will be prepared and submitted by the end of September 1996. This report will be a compilation of both Phase-I (Madras, Madurai, Thanjavur, Tuticorin) and Phase-II (Coimbatore, Tiruppur, Tiruchirapalli, Kodaikanal & Chidambaram) studies.

h) Capacity 21: Water Resource Accounting, Indira Gandhi Institute of Development Research, Mumbai, Sponsored by UNDP

Paul P.Appasamy

The Indira Gandhi Institute of Development Research, Mumbai is implementing a UNDP sponsored Capacity 21 Project on "Environmental Economics for Sustainable Development". IGIDR has requested the Institute to take up a study on economic analysis of water quality management, and natural resource accounting of water resources. The Bhavani basin has been identified as the geographical location for this exercise. The study commenced on April 1, 1996 and will be for a duration of 20 months.
